Media Members of Spectrum brought a new mode of communication to campus last Friday. Called "Guerilla Theater," the skits presented are used to dramatize social problems in a dramatic context.

above quotation appeared last week in a controversial pamphlet distributed on campus entitled "An Important Message to you of BYU."

The same "important message" found in another medium which proved controversial last week—Guerilla who made up the three-quarters of the audience in the Varsity Theater last week saw what one viewer described as "less writhing" and what another "really good avenue to air views." They saw were three skits, each in an area of social problems. 1) Arguments and rulers declare war, who have no quarrel do the

W. Rampton here

Calvin L. Rampton will appear as a Congressional candidate K. McKay onto the BYU campus conference today at 3 p.m. KBYU-TV studios as part of a sign swing into Utah County.

Young Democrats President Shook has announced that students and faculty are invited to a question and answer session at 4 p.m. in the Memorial Gym. Shook also noted that students will be allowed to sign up to run in the Senatorial campaign of Ernest Frank E. Moss at that time. KBYU-TV studios are located in the north end of the second level in the Fine Arts Center.

fighting," provided one theme, according to Tom Lister, spokesman for the group. 2) The 1963 Saigon riots were depicted from the peasant and student viewpoint. 3) The trio was rounded out with a satire about the poor choice of the cougar as a mascot, "because of its predatory nature."

The Guerilla Theater was only an appendage of the newly active campus organization, Spectrum.

The varied spectrum of light reflecting from a glass prism could well describe the equally varied activities of Spectrum.

"We have two purposes," said the group spokesman, 1) "To promote a diversity of opinion that we feel doesn't exist here on campus and, 2) to take the students off the campus and into the community into responsible activities."

"EVERYONE within Spectrum has the right to form a committee to study a problem and to present that problem in their own chosen way," explained Lister. "Friday's theater communicated the point of view of the sponsoring committee, not Spectrum."

Spectrum, an apparent conglomeration of committees providing an arena for development of views may prove difficult to disengage with because "Spectrum has no point of view," said Lister.

"Within Spectrum there is room for a wide scope of interest. Anyone with special interests can find a medium there," Lister explained.

The approximately 75 members have already found "media" for diversified projects.

They include a drive to register low income people to vote, work with the Community Action Program, a "Big Brother and Sister" campaign which takes children of low income families on weekly outings and a series of five days set aside to emphasize various social problems. The first of these will be Ecology Day, Nov. 19 featuring speakers from Geneva steel and Kennecott Copper Corporation.

Racial tensions aired by Walton

By BOB WILLIAMS

Universe Staff Writer

BYU is being caught up in Black America's "fight for freedom" because Blacks see it as a personification of White America, ASBYU President Bruan Walton told students last night during a "convocation" of the student body.

"In a sense we are a surrogate for the larger society. Prejudice is not an easy thing to attack, BUT WE ARE, Walton said. He made the comments after reviewing the tragic history of blacks in America and the difficulties they have faced.

Though Walton was largely sympathetic with the problems of the Blacks, he said, "We do not apologize for the current doctrinal practice in The Church which presently withholds the Priesthood from Blacks of African lineage."

Walton also reviewed the recent history of demonstrations against BYU for its allegedly racist policies. He told the group of about 500 students the University's PR programs alone will not solve the problems.

He then confronted proposals for a Black recruitment and development program at BYU similar to the program now in progress for American Indians. "I can claim no credit for those proposals. I did not make them. But I have considered them," Walton stated.

He said that if the motives behind such proposals are done in hope that they will stop the demonstrations, "they are justifiably doomed to failure," but if they

Mock election for candidates

A mock student election between U.S. Senatorial candidates Laurence Burton (Republican) and Frank Moss (Democrat) will be held today.

Also, appearing on the ballot will be Richard Richards and Gunn McKay, candidates for U.S. House of Representatives.

ELECTRONIC VOTING machines will be set up in the Wilkinson Center Reception Center and in the JKB from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. They will be designated by the sign which says "Mock Election for Senators."

The election is sponsored by the Elections Committee, a part of the Student Relations Office. Rande Greenwell, chairman of the Election Committee, stated that the election is being held because many felt it would be "interesting for the students of BYU to know the preferences of this campus."

Results will be announced in the Universe tomorrow.

come from a genuine concern for Black—"we might look at it further."

Walton liberally sprinkled his speech with quotations from many sources including the First Presidency of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, that placed responsibility squarely on the shoulders of Church members to love their fellow men (including Blacks) and to help them.

He quoted from King Benjamin's address to his people recorded in Mosiah 4:15-18 where King Benjamin tells them they cannot justify refusing to help their fellow men by saying "The man has brought upon himself his misery . . ."

Walton announced the formation of a committee "which will attempt to provide solid information regarding this topic and allow us to thereby know where we stand."

The committee will include Gary Carver, Chairman of University Standards; Dr. Jae R. Balluff of the Physics Dept.; Dr. F. Lamond Tullis, Prof. of Political Science, and students Randy Peterson, Bill Fillmore, Reed Wilcox and Bruce Barton. In a question and answer session after his speech Walton clarified some minor points. He also told one student who asked that he had given a great deal of prayer to his position and the decisions he has had to make.

Walton said he could not answer some questions such as one that asked, "Will the University be afraid to expell Black students if they fail to meet standards?" and said others would be answered by the committee, which was set up for those very purposes.

Copies of Walton's speech will be available for students and faculty on Friday in the Wilkinson Center.

Fresh elections today, Friday

ROGER ARCHIBALD
PRESIDENT

PLATFORM

To have a more informed student body and a more informed student government. This can be accomplished by a monthly bulletin telling you, the student, what I am doing for you. In order for you to be represented, I must know your wants as a Freshman. A committee will be appointed to talk with you and to find out what you want done so it will get done. In order to have a successful Freshman Class, both ends must be informed; me of your wants and you of what I am doing for you.

QUALIFICATIONS

1. President of Hi-Y, club sponsored by YMCA

3. Active in student government in High School.

CURT BENCH

PLATFORM

Now for the first time, the Freshman Class is represented on the Executive Council. This is an important step for our class. There is a danger, however, of losing this representation if nothing is accomplished by the Frosh Presidency and there is no freshman participation or unity. I want to make sure that our class is represented the way it should be and can be.

I want to accomplish things, not let everything just stagnate. I'm planning to have BIG activities: famous speakers, big name bands for our major dances, forums, firesides and class gifts.

Under my planned organization, all freshmen will be represented. Each dorm will have representatives.

QUALIFICATIONS

4. Have Open Council Meetings where you may voice your gripes and make suggestions which will be heard and acted upon
5. To better unify and inform Freshman Class thru monthly newsletters
6. To thoroughly represent the freshman class on the Executive Council.

BRADLEY PARKER
PRESIDENT

2. As a member of the Executive Council, the President has a great responsibility to fully represent the Freshman Class. I feel I can do this well.

CRAG TERRY
PRESIDENT

PLATFORM

- In order to utilize the powers given to the Freshman Class, a body of dispersed Frosh students will be organized as an official class body. This body will be known as the "Senate."
- The Senate will be comprised of a selected group of students living in all areas of campus housing. The student will be selected through petition. (Once selected, they become senators).
- The Senate will consist of at least 12 members and will have a Senate President. Its objectives will be to utilize the power of the frosh class, to represent as many frosh students in all aspects of campus life, to work with the freshman class officers.

4. To provide healthy, physical and social activities for the freshmen class. Center on the proposition the freshman should be lonely, activities will provide opportunity for all to become involved in a help to develop lasting friendships.

JAN WELSH
PRESIDENT

PLATFORM

The ideals I want to accomplish for the freshman class are realistic enough to become realities with the support of the class. My main platform is to have us, as freshmen, lead the way in a new trend for relevance in student government. We don't have power to produce major changes in the work, but in a gentle way, we can shake it. We want not to change people, but we can affect their thinking. We do have the power and will be able to initiate programs for the freshman, to orient him and involve him in BYU's life (as further detailed in my handout), and programs for the academically inclined, something new socially, Frosh Cabinet, Brotherhood Week, "tutoring program."

STEVEN WOODS
PRESIDENT

PLATFORM

I believe that the first concern of a freshman student should be high academic achievement. The class president has a responsibility to ensure that his class has the means available to achieve that goal.

The question a class officer has to answer is not "why get involved" but "how" to get his classmates involved.

It is difficult to adjust to college routine. Therefore we should let next year's class know what is in store for them at BYU.

We must not let ourselves be ruled by rash decisions. We must be tolerant of other peoples opinions.

Frosh Elections

Students may vote between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. both days. Two booths each will be in the Wilkinson Center, S. Center, and Desert Tower booth will be located in the MCKB. Students holding activity numbers under 21900, reminded to have them stubbed by voting.

Cards may be stamped in 4th floor student office at Parker's desk, ELWC or at voting booths.

The listing came out as "President Richard Nixon delivers a campaign speech at Miami convention hall. Ghostly and menacing presence." The newspaper carried an apology Wednesday, saying "The Herald regrets any misunderstanding the error may have caused."

College Tuition And Fees Up 8%

Sam Francis leads harriers

By LYNN CANNON
Universe Sports Writer

At 6'5" one would think that lanky, BYU cross-country ace Sam Francis would make good basketball material. In a brief interview with the Daily Universe, Sam explained why he had chosen the grueling sport of distance running.

"My father, Sam Francis Sr., was a great basketball player in high school," commented Sam Jr., "so naturally everyone expected me to follow in his footsteps. But I lacked co-ordination and agility and never could make first string. Since good athletes have been a tradition in my family," continued Francis, "I wanted very much to succeed in sports. With a little persuasion from a friend, I decided to run the mile on the track team during my junior year."

It didn't take Sam long to establish a name for himself. In only his second race over the mile distance, he beat the cream of Southern California's distance runners in the L.A. Invitational indoor race recording an excellent 4:20.5 clocking in the process. Later that year Sam set a school record of 4:18.9 which still stands.

This weekend Sam, along with friendly rival and teammate David Hindley, will lead BYU's cross-country team in defense of their Idaho State Invitational title.

"We should be able to place first again," said Coach Sherald James, "but a lot will depend on how well our freshmen run. All five are top prospects and are improving with each race."

James also believes that both Francis and Hindley are capable of breaking the course record at Pocatello. The record, set earlier this year by Utah's Scott Brimhurst, is 26:01 for the 5.0 mile course.

The Cougars will receive strong opposition from Montana, ISU, Idaho, Weber, Montana St., and Ricks.

Following the ISU meet, the team will participate in the Utah State Invitational in Logan before traveling to El Paso for the Western Athletic Conference championships at UTEP.

Cowboys next for Cougars

By DAVE PATTON
Guest Sports Writer

Two hardluck football teams meet Saturday when the Wyoming Cowboys (1-5) and the Cougars (2-5) clash in a game on the turf of the Mountain Athletic Conference. Kick off time is 1:30 P.M.

After last year's disappointing season, Wyoming was looking forward to a promising year in 1970 with the help of senior quarterback Ed Synakowski, a team field general who led the team in total offense and passing yards.

The Cowboys' hopes were crushed a week before their season game when Synakowski was injured in a boating accident. Larry Fox, a junior letterman, stepped in at quarterback, but he has been injured and the extent of his playing will be holding for field goals and points after touchdowns.

The Cowboys' next choice for quarterback, Greg Gagne, also a junior who is listed as a flanker in the pressbook, received a bruised shoulder in Wyoming's last game against New Mexico. He should be available for action against the Cougars Saturday, however.

In case Gagne can't perform, sophomore Scott Freeman will handle the quarterbacking spot. There are also a number of other starters that are on the doubtful list for Saturday's game.

The Cougars, who at the present time have lost a total of 11 players due to injuries, did come out of the Utah State game last week without a single injury, a first for the '70 season.

Wyoming, whose passing attack isn't known to be as effective as in the past, does have a respectable rushing game led by tailback Frosty Franklin who has lugged the pigskin 119 times for 465 yards.

There is a definite possibility that two NCAA career records will be broken Saturday.

Wyoming's Bob Jacobs is currently tied with former Pike place-kicker Jerry DeFoyster with 36 career field goals, an NCAA mark. Should Jacobs kick a FG against the Cougars Saturday, he will become the new national place-kicker in that category.

Meanwhile, BYU's Chris Farasopoulos needs only 48 return yards (punts and kickoffs) to break the NCAA career record of 2,253 in that department. The mark was set by Dickie Lyons of Kentucky from 1966-68.

Card section tickets given out Friday

Saturday Oct. 31 will bring to a close the 1970 home football season. This will be the final opportunity to see the Cougars in action in Provo.

Due to the past difficulty of filling the card stunt section by game time, tickets will be distributed to card stunt pass holders on Friday, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the ELWC. Students can pick up tickets in the cloak room beside the information desk. Tickets not picked up Friday will be distributed Saturday to anyone wishing to sit in the card section.

The key to a successful card section is organization. The section is composed of 1600 seats on 26 rows. Each row must have a competent leader (row captain) that can efficiently distribute instructions and cards to the 62 people sitting on his row.

Tonight at 8:30 in the Orange Room at the Riviera Apartments, a meeting will be held for the purpose of assigning rows to anyone interested in being a row captain for Saturday's game. Rows will be assigned on a first-come first-served basis.

Row captains are entitled to two reserved seat tickets on the 50-yard line (Section T, seats 1 and 2, rows 8-33). Questions will be answered and all details explained at the meeting.

Many consider the card stunts to be the high point of the halftime show and compliments have been received from such sources as ABC Sports, KSL Radio, and thousands of favorably impressed visitors.

Y Ruggers to hold intra squad battle

Immediately following the BYU-Wyoming football game Saturday, the BYU ruggers will play an intrasquad game putting their first and second teams in a hard fought contest. The Cougars are now in hard training for their upcoming trip to Tucson where they are scheduled to play the University of Arizona.

Friendly Senate is Nixon campaign goal

ALLAHASSEE, FLA. (UPI)—President Nixon, his pants drenched with water from a deli overturned on him by a fire crowd, stumped Florida's 1st Coast area Wednesday before a crowd of about 2,000, ending Harold G. Carlwell, the friendly U.S. Senate.

$77million

DETROIT (UPI)—General Motors Corp. Wednesday reported a 7 million loss in the third quarter of this year and laid part of the blame on the 44-day-old strike by the United Auto Workers.

It was the first quarterly loss by the world's largest automaker since the first quarter of 1966, when operations also were closed by a UAW strike. The quarter ended the first two weeks of October.

It's worldwide factory sales of cars and trucks in the third quarter of 1970 totaled 937,000 and were 34 per cent below 1,427,000 sold in last year's third quarter.

Walton 'bought'

A penny just isn't worth what it used to be. Apparently it's worth more.

Or so thought a handful of BYU students scrambling around campus Tuesday evening in a "bigger and better" hunt as they clutched their pennies to trade off.

They grabbed ASBYU President Brian Walton, who was tangling fervently with the speech he delivered last night in a student body convocation.

"I was just working in my office and all of a sudden I was bought," sputtered Walton after he had been whisked from his office and into the Fox Hall basement to go before the judges.

Competition was stiff. Walton was up against a shotgun ringer, a deer head, a lawn mower, a soft drink bottle from Dr. Hugh Nibley, a bushel of plums and a bent candle.

When the BYU Third Ward Baptist retired from their huddle they pegged a typewriter as the most valuable item.

"I'd be insulted," poked one student at Walton.

"That's all right, I'm used to it," he shrugged.

But the judges came back to name Walton winner of the most original prize.

POW wife to speak today

Mrs. Doris Dugwally, a student at BYU, has not heard from her husband in almost six years. It is not certain if he is "alive...or dead."

Master Gunnery Sgt. John F. Dugwally is among 1100 other U.S. servicemen missing in action, many of whom are supposed prisoners of the North Vietnamese.

Mrs. Dugwally will represent the wives of these men in a forum today at 12 noon in the Varsity Theatre.

Mrs. Dugwally's lecture is part of the program sponsored by Arnold Air Society, a service unit of BYU AFOTC, to encourage letter-writing to the Hanoi government protesting their failure to comply with the articles of the Geneva Convention.

The North Vietnamese government signed the Geneva Convention in 1957, agreeing among other things to immediately identify prisoners and to allow communication between prisoners and their families.

Arnold Air Society members are available at a table in the Wilkinson Center to receive and assist in writing letters. Letters may also be mailed to the North Vietnamese Peace Delegation, c/o P.O.W., Provo.
